Why do such troublesome people as Travelers, Alexandria, Citizens, and Visitors, disturb us? These writers only mean mischief, and bring to our good old city, all sorts of unequities. Travelers go into a story of the wealth of the railroads, and how many of the railroads have brought to St. Paul, and how many buildings have been put up in that city in the past two years, and Citizens endorse Travelers' statements and seem to wish we could build also as many houses as St. Paul. Alexandria says he cannot see the wisdom of the course pursued by the City Council. If Alexandria will read this article carefully, he cannot fail to see the propriety of the action of Council. The writer calling himself Visitor alludes to the trade and shipping we had here twenty-five years ago, and wonders what is the reason there is not as much trade and shipping here now. My answer to such restless people is this; the city of Alexandria, for quiet people, has vastly improved in the past twenty-five years. Why, twenty-five years ago it was impossible (except on a back street) to get ten hours sleep in one night, or a two hours after dinner nap, for the reason, wagons and carts were going till a late hour at night and began running on the streets again at peep of day. We then had several machine shops, and factories full of work people. All these shops and factories had those hideous inventions, steam whistles, and what between the whistles of steamboats, locomotives and factories, carts, and drays, our people were waked up at all sorts of hours, completely spoiling rest. We have got rid of some of the machine and other shops. I grieve to say, we have still some steamboats, but live in hopes, they will soon be obliged to leave here for good, and laws passed to keep all locomotives out of town, and when that happens, we can sleep in peace in the morning.

The people who lived in Alexandria twenty-five years ago, were full of the foolish passion for making money, and willing to wear themselves out prematurely, and have very little comfort during their lives. But our people in Alexandria to-day have more sense than to follow their example.

The present generation of Alexandria know that, at the best, life is short, and that it is foolish to wear life out faster than need be through greedy efforts to accumulate money. They know when they are dead, they cannot take the money with them, and therefore, do not fret themselves for thirty or forty years with all sorts of schemes to get rich and then, ten years or so after they are rich, die and leave it. The people evince their sense by taking all the comfort they can get, in refusing to have dirty noisy machine shops, or other manufactories, or trade to any larger extent than they can help. When our people want a carriage, or a hat, or shoes, or clothes, or almost any other kind of goods, they send to New York and buy them; where they have a restless noisy population who like or need to make such goods, and are glad to sell them to us. This renders the streets of our city dirty. There is no excitement here; we eat our meals in peace, sleep night or day as long as we wish, thus we are healthy, which is far better for us than being disturbed with war schemes to become rich. Our City Council perceives the evils that would fall upon us if the Alexandria and Fredericksburg and the other proposed roads were allowed to enter our city. The same thing would happen here as in other cities, factories, machine shops, and other shops might start into life sooner or later, and trade increase and the City Council have my support.

Believing that the Farming interest is the basis of all trade and prosperity, and that that which injures the country injures the town, and that the rate of interest, now allowed, is prejudicial to the welfare of our State, as at present circumstanced, I send you another article on "12 per cent."

TRADE.
"It is stated, says the Alexandria Gazette, by some of the newspapers of the old Dominion that many of the land owners in Virginia express a willingness to sell their estates, the burden of taxation and the inefficiency of the labor system prevailing here being more than they can bear. Within a few weeks the best lands of the State, have depreciated twenty per cent. in saleable value."

On this, the Tenth Legion says:—"Many farmers in the Valley section of the State have long since expressed, not a willingness, but a desire to dispose of their best farming lands, but they cannot do so without making a great sacrifice of that which has always been considered better than gold. But the cause assigned by the Gazette—the inefficiency of the labor system—does not apply here. The depreciation is mainly attributable to the abominable enactment which makes money yield in interest almost three times as much as the best producing lands of the State. When the war closed and the people began to realize their condition, farms were thrown upon the market and their owners realized their full value. Land agencies were springing up in every county town in the State, and catalogues descriptive of hundreds of farms were issued; coach and train loads of buyers from Pennsylvania and other Northern States, were examining and purchasing farms, but we think we speak the truth when we say that we have had but two purchasers in this neighborhood since money became worth twelve per cent., and one of these was a reckless humbug who stole a horse and left for parts unknown. The other was a gentleman who came a few days ago, and after finding a property to suit him, asked the proprietor what interest he wanted on the deferred payments. He was told six per cent., and a sale is altogether probable. But in a majority of cases the farmers, upon whom the burden of the war fell most heavily, are compelled to ask twelve per cent., upon payments in order to meet their own obligations given since the passage of this ruinous act."

W. M. N. BERKLEY has on hand a good supply of Cotton Yarns, all numbers; Carpet Chain, all colors; Cotton Bats, Black and White Wadding, Woolen Yarns, plain and fancy colors, all of which are being sold at reduced prices.

The symptoms of Liver Complaint are uneasiness and pain in the side. Sometimes the pain is in the shoulder, and is mistaken for rheumatism. Often complaining of weakness of the bill and low spirits. Sometimes many of the above symptoms attend the disease, and at other times very few of them; but the liver is generally the organ most involved. Cure the Liver with CLEAR & HARMLESS AS WATER. NATTAN'S CRYSTAL DISCOVERY. The following letter sent for themselves: Washington, Nov. 4, 1870.

Mr. Arthur Nattans: Dear Sir—After a very thorough and impartial trial of your Crystal Discovery for a month, I feel compelled to acknowledge its very great superiority over any other article now in use for the purpose designated—namely, the detection of the color and growth of the hair, and no one using it according to directions can fail, I am convinced, to attain this much desired result to perfection. The simplicity of the preparation and its entire cleanliness affords a new opportunity to the vast numbers utterly disgusted with the poisonous nostrums in use. Having a large number of my personal acquaintances who use your preparation with equal success, I cordially recommend Crystal Discovery to all persons desiring to use anything of this kind. Very respectfully,

P. DOWD, 701 I street, N. W. Washington, D. C., July 25, 1870.

Mr. Arthur Nattans: Dear Sir—I afford me pleasure to say that I have used your Crystal Discovery with perfect success. Having tried many others, I find yours superior to any I have heretofore used, and I cannot too highly recommend it as a rapid promoter of the growth of the hair, and by a few applications restoring it to its original color. It is perfectly clean and free from any objectionable matter.

R. W. SILVOY, K. st., bet. 4th and 5th, N. W. Alexandria, Va., Sept. 10, 1870.

Mr. Arthur Nattans: Sir—I have great pleasure in testifying to the excellence of your Crystal Discovery for the Hair. My back hair is remarkably long and thick, and became prematurely gray, (this being hereditary.) In eight days it resumed its natural color, chestnut-brown, coloring every hair. I like your preparation for its purity, pleasant odor, and freedom from all mineral and poisonous substances, as well as its other excellencies. I will recommend it to my acquaintances. Very respectfully, Miss L. 2222

Even the most incredulous must be convinced by such proofs as the above, from persons well known in Washington. The originals are open to any one wishing to see them.
